Week Has Shown New Low Levels for Standard Issues on This Side.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] New York, February 12.—Although all the American stock markets were closed to-day many Wall Street trad-ers did an active business in London, ers did an active business in London, where prices advanced from 1 to 2 points in the standard issues. Steel sold above 80, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Atchison and New York Central were all advanced materially. Rock Island was also conspicuous. The new syndicate that is getting control of Hock Island, along with Lehigh Valley, Wabash and some other properties, seems confident now of bringing about the organization of a new system.

about the organization of a new system.

Stocks recovered sharply in many directions this week. In the early sessions new low levels were made in nearly all the standard issues, and on Tuesday a particularly victous drives was made at values, but the raid proved to be purely professional. On that break, some of the imperators of the street changed their market positions, and among them was the Rock Island group. This group covered steel, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific and Smellers freely, and announced publicly a built campaign in Rock Island common.

and Smelters freely, and announced publicly a bull campaign in Rock island common.

Await Decisions.

Semi-omcial announcement was also made that the copper merger would not be officially announced until the Standard Oil and the tobacco cases were finally disposed of by the Supreme Court of the United States.

This announcement caused some selling of Amalgamated and a few other copper stocks with absurdly high artificial prices, but it inspired investment purchases of the good copper shares. The subsidiary companies will not be interfered with by the postponement of the billion dollar corporation.

The Copper Producers' Association announced a reduction in stocks on hand of about 43,009,000 pounds, as compared with January 1. Exports increased by something over 22,000 pounds, and actual production of metal was reduced 1.200,000 pounds. The mext report of the association will show a still greater shrinkage in production, owing to the strike and the bad weather in the West.

Existence of a large short interest was developed late in the week, and careful observers of the market said that as fast as this short interest was forced to cover new shorts were put out, because thousands of traders refused to believe that the bear market was anywhere near its end. Leading lanking houses refused to express any opinion regarding the swing of the market beyond saying that stocks are all extremely cheap and investment purchases advisance. Those who believe the next important movement will be upward now outnumbered those who look for a further decline of importance.

ntil all the central and western counties have been visited by one or another of the institute parties. Speaking of the condition of farmers generally, as he observed them on the Eastern Carolina institute trip. Director Parker says he found them realize more than they have ever done declaring their conviction that they perity. He says the farmers seem to perity. He says the farmers seem to before the possibilities of well-direct-hopeful and enthusiastic to a degree, ed. trained effort in agriculture. They are more than ever, he says, appreciative of the effort being made in their behalf through the Farmers' Institutes and similar educational effort.

Boys' Corn Clubs.

The boys' corn club work, under the auspices of the State Department of Agriculture, is looming up in a most gratifying manner, says Mr. Parker, who is in direct charge of this special work for the department. He says letters of inquiry and others accepting the terma as contestants are coming in by every mail from every part of the State, so that this work is sure to assume far greater proportions than to assume far greater proportions than last year, when the first effort of the sort was launched,

May Condemn Bridge.

It is reported here that the State Highway Commission regards the free bridge over the James River here as rapidly reaching the stage of becoming unsafe for travel, and an order condemning it would not be a surprise here at any time. The commission is thoroughly conversant with the bridge, for the commissioner and assistants use it frequently in watching the progress of the turnpike construction in Amherst county.
